Pick of the Week

Origin of Species Nino Ricci (tp) $22.00

It took some planning but Ricci has managed to publish the trade paper edition of his Governor General Award winning novel during the 150th anniversary of Mr. Darwin's original work. While it may cause some confusion with those readers who initially mistake this for a critique of the classic work on evolutionary science, the first page should tip them off. The life of everyman, Alex Fratarcangeli (really), is portrayed pretty much warts and all as he navigates 1980's Montreal with stopovers in the Galapagos and Denmark. There really is something here for everybody, with appearances by Darwin, Freud, Trudeau, Levesque, Gorbachev, Reagan and of course Peter Gzowski.
